ANOTHER RAID UPON ENGLAND

German Airships Drop Bombs
on Several Towns.

TWO ZEPPELINS ARE ACTIVE

As Far as Has Been Ascertained Only
One Woman Has Been Injured, but Considerable Damage to Property Occurred.

London, April 16.—Two Zeppelin
airships visited the east coast of England soon after midnight, dropping bombs on several towns and doing considerable damage to property. As far as has been ascertained only one person, a woman, was injured. It is said she was only slightly hurt.

The airships dropped four bombs
on Baldon, in Essex county, thirty miles northeast of London, but no damage resulted. Bombs also were dropped in the Reybridge basin, two miles across the river. These set fire to some buildings. The airships came up the Blackwater river and over the marshes.

At Lowestoft, on the North sea, in Suffolk county, three bombs were dropped, considerable damage resulting to house property in the center of the town. A lumber yard also was set on fire. The window panes in many houses were shattered.

Previously the aircraft had visited Southwold, twelve miles south of Lowestoft, and having missed striking that town with its missiles, went on to Halesworth, eight miles inland.
It then returned again to Southwold
and dropped six bombs.

According to the latest accounts
after leaving Lowestoft the air craft passed over Harwich, in the direction of Felixstowe. It is said now that a dozen bombs were dropped in Maldon,
but that only one building, a workshop in the London road, was struck.

Anti-aircraft guns were heard during the night at Gravesend and Sheer-ness. The authorities had ample warning of the air raid, as Dutch telegrams reported that Zeppelins were coming across the sea in the direction of England.

Notices were sent to the police authorities of some of the east and south coast towns of possible aerial visitors.
These notices enabled the usual precautions to forestall an air attack to be taken in towns and villages.

BRITAIN MAKES APOLOGY

Regrets Sinking of German Ship in Chilean Waters.

London, April 16.—The British government has offered a "full and ample apology" to the Chilean government for the sinking on March 14 in Chilean territorial waters of the German cruiser Dresden, the internment of which had already been ordered by the maritime governor of Cumberland bay
when the British squadron attacked and sank it.

This fact was made public in a white paper, giving the texts of the Chilean note protesting against the sinking of the Dresden and the British government's reply.

It is, however, pointed out that according to the British information the Dresden "had not accepted internment
and still had its colors flying and its guns trained."

The British reply continues:
"If this is so, and if there were no means available for enforcing the decision of the Chilean authorities to intern the Dresden it might obviously,
had not the British ship taken action,
have escaped again to attack British commerce."

To Speed War Supply.

London, April 16.—An important committee under the chairmanship of David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, to organize and speed up the supply of munitions of war, was completed. The British war office appointed a departmental committee to assist under the chairmanship of Field Marshal Earl Kitchener.

SLUMP IN MARKET FOR SALOON LICENSES.

Chicago, April 16.—Evidences that the market value of each of 7,152 saloon licenses has slumped were seen when Federal Judge Landis undertook to dispose of the eighty-nine licenses that came into his possession with the bankruptcy of the Tosetti Brewing company. A year ago licenses brought from $2,500 to $2,800.
Judge Landis has received only one offer and that for but $1,200.

American Ambassador Discusses Sub-

London, April 16.—Walter H. Page,
the American ambassador, called upon Foreign Secretary Grey at the foreign office and discussed the reprisals the Germans are reported to be making because of the special treatment being accorded by Great Britain to the officers and men captured on board
German submarines.

No official advices have been received in London as yet concerning the actual steps Germany is taking to punish the thirty-nine British officers who are reported to have been committed to special detention because of the steps taken by England against the German prisoners.

DUTCH STEAMER IS SUNK BY SUBMARINE

Crew of Katwyk Say They Saw Periscope While Rowing.

London, April 16.—The Netherlands steamer Katwyk, from Baltimore for Rotterdam, was torpedoed while anchored seven miles to the west of the North Hinder lightship, in the North sea. The crew of twenty-three men was saved and taken aboard the lightship.

A dispatch to Reuters from Flushing reports the arrival there of the crew of the Katwyk. The men say that while the night watch was being changed a severe shock was felt and
the ship began to take water.

As the steamer was sinking the crew took to the boats and while rowing away saw the periscope of a submarine, which quickly disappeared.
The Katwyk sank fifteen minutes after the explosion.

The Hague, April 16.—The sinking of the Dutch steamer Katwyk is considered here as the gravest incident of the submarine warfare up to the present date, as it directly affects the Dutch government, to which the cargo of grain on board the steamer was consigned.

New York, April 16.—Supreme Court Justice Newburger declined to consider the motion of lawyers for Harry K. Thaw that he be granted a jury trial to determine his sanity. He held that the writ in the case was returnable on Monday next and should be entertained by the justice then sitting

German Liner as 'She' Left New York to Raid Allies' Commerce

After sinking thirteen British and French merchant vessels since she slipped from New York harbor in a sea-gray coat of paint eight months ago, the North German Lloyd liner, Kronprinz Wilhelm, which was turned into an auxiliary cruiser, has run back to another American port for protection against the allies' battleships. She suddenly ran into Newport News Sunday, there to keep company with the interned Prinz

Eltel Frederich, which appeared there some weeks ago.

It is expected she will intern, and
this means that her career as a commerce destroyer is at an end.

Painted in war gray, the Kronprinz Wilhelm steamed out of New York harbor on the night of August 3, before American neutrality had been proclaimed. She was then armed with three six-inch guns, several smaller cannon and a number of machine guns. Her operations have been confined mainly to the south Atlantic.

Besides destroying enemy merchant vessels, the Kronprinz is reported to have acted as a relay station for wireless telegrams between Germany and the German war ships in the South Atlantic which were sunk by the British squadron commanded by Admiral Sturdee in the battle
off the Falkland Islands.

SUBMARINE SUNK DUTCH STEAMER

(By United Press)

The Hague, April 16.—The Dutch government this afternoon officially announced that it is convinced that a submarine sunk the Katwyk. The nationality of the submarine is not mentioned. Said the submarine refused to tow the boat into port. The newspapers however say it is undoubted that a German submarine
did the work, and demand a sharp
note demanding an apology, and a statement that a repetition of such an attack would mean war. Other papers state the situation is serious.

London, April 16.—Sir Gilbert Park-

United States for the attitude it has maintained during the war. He said:
"Never has a neutral nation had

has faced with a temperateness, courtesy and moderation for which this country cannot be too grateful."

"The American government," continued the speaker, "has pursued the

ous of preserving its deserved high reputation in the field of diplomacy."
"It has been in true sympathy with the high mindedness and sensible idealism of the American people in regard to the great events of the world's history. It is not surprising, therefore, that all the combatants in this great war desire at least Americans' good opinion."

Sir Gilbert praised the work of the

STRAW BREAD WORTH LITTLE

Inventor Admits That It Is of Doubt-

Berlin, April 16.—That bread made
of straw is tasty, but of doubtful nutritive value, is the admission of Dr.
Friedenthal, whose recent announcement that he had succeeded in producing a valuable food product from
finely triturated straw aroused predictions of a revolution in the feeding
of the human race.

Dr. Friedenthal explained his process at a meeting of the Berlin Medical association when he declared that
"straw bread is not entirely without
nourishment because some admissible
elements are present."

Samples of tarts made of straw
were passed around and the epicures
assembled found them tasty. Dr.
Friedenthal will continue his experi-

Woodbury was a veteran of the Civil
war. He lost his right arm in the first battle of Bull Run, was taken prisoner, paroled and discharged for wounds, but re-enlisted and became
a captain in the Eleventh Vermont
volunteers.

HUERTA DENIES KILLING MADERO

Former President Gives His Views on Mexico.

KEEPING KNOWLEDGE QUIET

Responsibility for Assassination of Francisco Madero is a "Professional Secret." According to General Huerta, Who Asserts Washington Government Is Being Misled.

New York, April 16.—Vehemently
asserting that he had nothing to do
with the death of Francisco Madero,
General Victoriano Huerta, former
provisional president of Mexico, issued a lengthy signed statement setting forth what he termed his side of
the Mexican question. General Huerta declared that he knew who was responsible for Madero's death, but
that he was keeping the information
as a "professional secret."

General Huerta's statement reviewed the history of the Madero revolution, his own accession to the provisional presidency and concluded with
the assertion that "my country cannot
be conquered."

Sixteen millions of men, women and
children would have to be killed before Mexico would submit to an in-vader, he asserted.

The heads of the Washington administration, he declared, had not
been fair to Mexico, had been misled
by false statements and if they had
been in Mexico thirty days "they
would have changed their theoretical,
erroneous ideas."

Had it not been for the embargo on
the exportation of arms from this country General Huerta indicated that
his army would have prevailed over
those opposed to it.

The former provisional president reiterated the assertion which he made
when he left Mexico last year that he
had resigned from his position only
because he hoped to bring peace to
his country.

He pointed out that in the eight
months elapsed since that date the
situation in Mexico had become "too
sad for me to analyze deeply."

"Anarchy is too soft a word to call
it," he said. Mexico would eventually be saved, but by a Mexican. Who
that would be, he did not know.

General Huerta declined to give any
inkling as to his future movements.
He denied the report that he would
go to San Antonio, Tex., or any other
point near the Mexican border.

GERMANS PLANNING ZEPPELIN RAIDS

(By United Press)

London, April 16th.—Count Zeppelin has arrived at Cuxhaven for the purpose of directing expected aerial raids upon London. Several Zeppelins have been transported to the German base at Bmden and Cuxhaven, and the enemy's ships are displaying the greatest activity. The report that three Zeppelins participated in the attack on English towns is apparently confirmed. While a conference was progressing to devise ways and means to meet the anticipated Zeppelin attack, a dispatch from Chatham announced that Ger-

and Sittingbourne, forty miles south-

The first aviator appeared on the English coast of Margate flying westward, and passed near the famous cathedral of Canterbury not attempting to damage it, then bombarded Faversham and Sittingbourne. British airmen pursued them.

STRAW BREAD WORTH LITTLE

Inventor Admits That It is of Doubtful Nutritive Value.

Berlin, April 16.—That bread made
of straw is tasty, but of doubtful nu-
tritive value, is the admission of Dr.
Friedenthal, whose recent announcement that he had succeeded in producing a valuable food product from
finely triturated straw aroused predictions of a revolution in the feeding
of the human race.

Dr. Friedenthal explained his process at a meeting of the Berlin Medical association when he declared that
"straw bread is not entirely without
nourishment because some admissible
elements are present."

Samples of tarts made of straw
were passed around and the epicures
assembled found them tasty. Dr.
Friedenthal will continue his experiments.

BATTLESHIP ASHORE AGAIN

Argentine Dreadnought Moreno Fast
Near Reedy Island.

Wilmington, Del., April 16.—The Argentine battleship Moreno, which sailed from the Philadelphia naval yard for Hampton Roads, ran aground near Reedy Island, in the Delaware river,
and is fast on the upper end of Dan Baker shoal. Officers of the dread-nought do not believe the ship was damaged.

The Moreno ran aground a short time ago, when it was leaving Philadelphia for Norfolk.

URBAN A. WOODBURY IS DEAD

Lost His Right Arm in the First Battle of Bull Run.

Burlington, Vt., April 16.—Former Governor Urban A. Woodbury is dead, aged seventy-six years. He had been ill for several months. Governor Woodbury was a veteran of the Civil
war. He lost his right arm in the first battle of Bull Run, was taken
prisoner, paroled and discharged for
wounds, but re-enlisted and became
a captain in the Eleventh Vermont
volunteers.

HUERTA DENIES KILLING MADERO

Former President Gives His Views on Mexico.

KEEPING KNOWLEDGE QUIET

Responsibility for Assassination of Francisco Madero is a "Professional Secret," According to General Huer-
ta, Who Asserts Washington Government is Being Misled.

New York, April 16.—Vehemently
asserting that he had nothing to do
with the death of Francisco Madero,
General Victoriano Huerta, former
provisional president of Mexico, issued a lengthy signed statement setting forth what he termed his side of
the Mexican question. General Huer-
ta declared that he knew who was responsible for Madero's death, but
that he was keeping the information
as a "professional secret."

General Huerta's statement review-
ed the history of the Madero revolution, his own accession to the provisional presidency and concluded with
the assertion that "my country cannot
be conquered."

Sixteen millions of men, women and
children would have to be killed before Mexico would submit to an in-
vader, he asserted.

The heads of the Washington administration, he declared, had not
been fair to Mexico, had been misled
by false statements and if they had
been in Mexico thirty days "they
would have changed their theoretical,
erroneous ideas."

Had it not been for the embargo on
the exportation of arms from this
country General Huerta indicated that
his army would have prevailed over
those opposed to it.

The former provisional president reiterated the assertion which he made
when he left Mexico last year that he
had resigned from his position only
because he hoped to bring peace to
his country.

He pointed out that in the eight
months elapsed since that date the
situation in Mexico had become "too
sad for me to analyze deeply."

"Anarchy is too soft a word to call
it," he said. Mexico would eventually
be saved, but by a Mexican. Who
that would be, he did not know.

General Huerta declined to give any
inkling as to his future movements.
He denied the report that he would
go to San Antonio, Tex., or any other
point near the Mexican border.

BANKER'S WIFE IS KILLED

Winnipeg Woman Is Run Down by Another's Auto.

Winnipeg, April 16.—Mrs. Thomas Jellus, wife of one of Winnipeg's leading cafe proprietors, ran down Mrs.
H. G. Bullen, wife of a local banker,
while driving her auto on Broadway.
Mrs. Bullen was injured so seriously that she died a short time later in a hospital.

Mrs. Fanny Dickinson was thrown from a limney bus suffering injuries
that physicians do not look for her recovery. The driver, to avoid a collision, ran into a subway pillar, throwing out three occupants.

CONVICTED SHERIFF QUILTS

Dennis Shea of Terre Haute, Ind., Is Succeeded by Brother.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 16.—Dennis Shea, one of the men convicted in the Terre Haute election case and sentenced to five years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth and payment of a fine of $1,000, resigned as sheriff of Vigo county and was succeeded by his brother, John Shea.

CANAL IS RUNNING BEHIND

Revenues Are 10 Per Cent Short of Cost of Operation.

Panama, April 16.—Since the opening of the Panama canal the expenditures have been in excess of the revenues approximately 10 per cent, due to the cost of maintenance and operation of the waterway. In the period from July 1 to March 1 the canal authorities have spent $2,595,000 and the canal has earned $2,234,000.

BRITISH CASUALTIES SINCE WAR BEGAN.

London, April 16.—The total British casualties in the war
from the beginning of hostilities up to Sunday is 139,347
men, according to an announcement made in the house of commons by Harold J. Tennant, under secretary of war.

DOUBLE SERVICEAUTOMOBILE TIRES

Guaranteed 7000 Miles Service

ABSOLUTELY PUNCTUREPROOF

Double Service Tires are double the thickness of the best standard make tires.

This 100 per cent greater wearing surface naturally gives that much more mileage and service. The average of 12 miles of rough road and one inch surface tread rubber makes these tires
absolutely punctureproof.

These tires excel all others for use in the country over rough and rugged roads
as well as on hard pavements. They are as easy riding and resilient as any other pneumatic tire—the air space and pressure being the same.

They are the most economical and
"care free" tires made and are used where tires must be depended on and tire troubles cannot be tolerated. Many Double Service style tires are in use in the United States government and European War service.

SCHOOL TEACHERS IN CONVENTION

Pretty School Marm From all Over the County in Attendance at Sessions Today

THE PUBLIC INVITED TO ATTEND

Roland Barron to Speak at High School Auditorium This Evening—Spelling Contest

Pretty school marm by the dozens are making Brainerd their objective point today because this afternoon the Crow Wing County Teachers Association opened its two days' convention in the city.

This afternoon there were round table discussions, addresses and a feast of good things in the way of helpful suggestions and instruction at the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The afternoon brought out such topics as "Vital Issues of the Rural School of 1915," led by the president; "How to Keep Pupils in School Until the Eighth Grades are Completed," led by Miss Nora Barron; "The Responsibility of a Teacher for the Moral Development of his Pupil," led by Miss Olive Johnson; "The Playground and Recreation," open discussion; "How to Manage a School Board," led by Prof. J. A. Wilson; "The Relation of the Home to the School," led by Miss Marie Archibald; "Music and its Influence," by Miss Dorothy Mahlum; "The School as a Social Center," Miss Eunice Batdorf; "General Academic Work," Miss Ethel Quinn. The public is cordially invited to all meetings.

This evening Roland Barron, a student of the St. Paul law school will address the teachers and friends at the high school auditorium. Mr. Barron is an eloquent speaker and a loyal Brainerdite and those who have heard his pleasing addresses in the past will be glad to do so again. The subject of his address will be "Views of an Outsider."

Musical numbers will be contributed by Gussie Small, Miss Mildred Wood and Miss Anna Michaelson.

The normal training teachers will serve light refreshments to the teachers and their friends after the lecture.

The county spelling contest will be held Saturday morning at the high school and will be conducted by R. R. Denison, principal of the high school. One hundred and ten schools will be represented and prizes will be awarded to the winners of the oral and written tests by the Teachers Association.

The Brainerd high school graduates are well represented in this organization. Miss Mae Staples, president; Miss Caroline Barron, vice president; Miss Daisy Graham, treasurer and the Misses Dorothy Mahlum, Ruth Simmons and Olive Johnson, chairmen of committees have helped bring this Teachers Association of Crow Wing county to its present high standard.

AITKIN GIRL WAS SUICIDE FOR LOVE

Ella Caron Drank Poison in Archibald Park, Deerwood, Physician Tries to Save Her

WORKED IN DEERWOOD HOTEL

Cuyuna Range Chauffeurs Give Big Dance Tuesday—Other News of the Town and Vicinity

Deerwood, Minn., April 15—Brooding over a love affair Ella Caron, a pretty girl aged 16, employed at the Deerwood hotel, drank a quantity of carbolic acid and died soon afterward, notwithstanding desperate efforts to save her.

The girl's mother lives in Aitkin and her father is in Canada. She was of a quiet nature and had been working at the hotel a month, associating with no other girls. A lover's quarrel of some kind caused her to be very despondent.

Some weeks before she had bought carbolic acid and had spilled the same on her dress. The wife of the Deerwood hotel proprietor asked her about it and she said she had been careless in handling the same.

Later she had often reverted to the subject of carbolic acid, asking about its effects and the pain caused. On the day of the tragedy, she went about Deerwood and paid small accounts she owed. With her last quarter she bought a bottle of acid.

She had told some girl before that "in two weeks it will be all over with me." Miss Caron walked out to Archibald park and swallowed the acid. The burning fluid pained her and gathering her skirts, it is said, the poor girl ran to town for help. About half way back and near the home of Ben Olson, she fell in the road. People found her later and Dr. O. E. Nelson was summoned. He worked desperately to save her, but the poison had done its work. The remains were taken to Aitkin and the services held there.

Chauffeurs of the Cuyuna iron range gave a big dance at Hilyar hall on Tuesday evening. The committee in charge included Fred McGee of Deerwood, James Respiro of Crosby and Sam Wamboldt of Deerwood. Music was furnished by the five piece Kast orchestra. The floor was in fine shape and the guests were present from Crosby, Ironton, Cuyuna, River-ton, Brainerd and other points. It bore all the marks of one of the swiftest and smartest functions on the range, and automobiles by the score were parked about Hilyar's hall. The music was fine and encores were numerous. Everybody had a good time and everybody danced each number until the orchestra played the "Home, Sweet Home" waltz. By all present it was voted one of the best dances of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hilyar and daughter, Miss Hazel Hilyar, of Langford, S. D., returned to Deerwood on Tuesday.

L. J. Alberts is selling carloads of Ford cars. He stepped on a nail the other day and is going about with the crutch, but that does not seem to interfere with his salesmanship. Mr. Peterson of Ironton, S. Gierdahl of Deerwood township, David Archibald of Deerwood and W. T. McKeown of River-ton, bought cars Tuesday.

H. J. Ernster has a used Ford car which he is offering for sale. He says that after he has explained all the merits of the car to a prospective customer and made Ford enthusiasts out of them, they walk down the street, see L. J. Alberts and straight-away turn around and buy a new car.

Touring the range in his new King car T. H. Croswell, vice president of the Cuyuna Range Power company, had as guests M. D. Stoner, president and A. W. Miller, secretary of the company, the writer and a friend. With never a jar the beautiful car sped over the roads and the trip from Crosby to Deerwood was made in very short time.

Deerwood streets and the roads near by were improved this week by running a grader over them and surfacing them.

A crew of three Northern Pacific railway surveyors is reported to have run the lines for a new depot. It is believed some change to the yards is also under consideration.

Agent E. Masson and operators are comfortably located in a temporary depot made out of the freight house. County Commissioners Erickson and Crust of Brainerd, and John A. Oberg of Deerwood, accompanied by District Engineer Garrison of Brainerd, inspected the Cedar Lake road, state highway No. 6.

L. J. Alberts was elected superintendents of roads in Crow Wing county with a salary to be $90 a month. He has had experience in road building and in handling large crews of men.

At the creamery committee meeting held at the Bay Lake Fruit Growers association office A. N. Gray, Chas. W. Potts and T. Haaland Tonnason were appointed to inspect creamery machinery and give estimates on the cost of a lot and suitable building. State creamery experts will be present at the next meeting set for April 24.

Ladies of the Civic League will hold a reception Saturday evening, April 17, in the Ladies Aid hall, when a short program will be given and refreshments served. The public is cordially invited to attend.

M. S. Lamey has been re-elected marshal of Deerwood. He has been efficient in his duties. Ole Cunningham was elected constable to fill the term made vacant by the resignation of Ed Watt. Gust Blom was re-elected street commissioner. H. E. Peterson was re-elected village attorney.

The Deerwood village council has donated $50 to the Deerwood concert band.

Scores made at the Deerwood Gun and Rod club shoot were as follows: Frank Freeman 20, R. R. Graham 17, John A. Oberg 17, R. R. Graham 17, W. C. McCoy 17, W. C. McCoy 16, Harry Freeman 16, Alex Ruttger 16, E. Ruttger 15, E. C. Holmes 14, P. Freeman 14, W. C. McCoy 14, Fred Olson 14, Carl E. Carlson 13, Gust Oberg 11, Tom DeRoche 10, Julius O. Hage 10, Gust Franson 10.

The Deerwood Times remarks sentimentously: "It is rumored that M. J. Reilly was in Deerwood last Tuesday."

Alfred Johnson was elected president, F. J. Winquest secretary and Paul Bergfalk treasurer of the Hamlet and Shirt Lake telephone company.

Fred Hamdorf and Miss Doris Charles were married at the German Lutheran church at Cedar Lake, Rev. Engle officiating.

AITKIN GIRL WAS SUICIDE FOR LOVE

Ella Caron Drank Poison in Archibald Park, Deerwood, Physician Tries to Save Her

WORKED IN DEERWOOD HOTEL

Cuyuna Range Chauffeurs Give Big Dance Tuesday—Other News of the Town and Vicinity

Deerwood, Minn., April 15—Brooding over a love affair Ella Caron, a pretty girl aged 16, employed at the Deerwood hotel, drank a quantity of carbolic acid and died soon afterward, notwithstanding desperate efforts to save her.

The girl's mother lives in Aitkin and her father is in Canada. She was of a quiet nature and had been working at the hotel a month, associating with no other girls. A lover's quarrel of some kind caused her to be very despondent.

Some weeks before she had bought carbolic acid and had spilled the same on her dress. The wife of the Deer-wood hotel proprietor asked her about it and she said she had been careless in handling the same.

Later she had often reverted to the subject of carbolic acid, asking about its effects and the pain caused. On the day of the tragedy she went about Deerwood and paid small accounts
she owed. With her last quarter she bought a bottle of acid.

She had told some girl before that
"in two weeks it will be all over with me." Miss Caron walked out to Archibald park and swallowed the acid.
The burning fluid pained her and gathering her skirts, it is said, the poor girl ran to town for help. About half way back and near the home of Ben Olson, she fell in the road. People found her later and Dr. O. E. Nelson was summoned. He worked desperately to save her, but the poison had done its work. The remains were taken to Aitkin and the services held there.

Chauffeurs of the Cuyuna iron range gave a big dance at Hilyar hall on Tuesday evening. The committee in charge included Fred McGee of Deerwood, James Respino of Crosby and Sam Wamboldt of Deerwood. Music was furnished by the five piece Kast orchestra. The floor was in fine shape and the guests were present
from Crosby, Ironton, Cuyuna, Riverton, Brainerd and other points. It bore all the marks of one of the swell-est and smartest functions on the range, and automobiles by the score were parked about Hilyar's hall. The music was fine and encores were numerous. Everybody had a good time and everybody danced each number

until the orchestra played the "Home, Sweet Home" waltz. By all present
it was voted one of the best dances
of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hilyar and daughter, Miss Hazel Hilyar, of Langford, S. D., returned to Deerwood on Tuesday.

L. J. Alberts is selling carloads of Ford cars. He stepped on a nail the other day and is going about with the crutch, but that does not seem to interfere with his salesmanship. Mr.
Peterson of Ironton, S. Gierdahl of Deerwood and W. T. McKeown of Riverton, bought cars Tuesday.

H. J. Ernster has a used Ford car which he is offering for sale. He says that after he has explained all the merits of the car to a prospective
customer and made Ford enthusiasts
out of them, they walk down the street, see L. J. Alberts and straightaway turn around and buy a new car.

Touring the range in his new King car T. H. Crowwell, vice president of the Cuyuna Range Power company, had as guests M. D. Stoner, president and A. W. Miller, secretary of the company, the writer and a friend.
With never a jar the beautiful car
sped over the roads and the trip from Crosby to Deerwood was made in very short time.

Deerwood streets and the roads
near by were improved this week by running a grader over them and surfacing them.

A crew of three Northern Pacific railway surveyors is reported to have run the lines for a new depot. It is believed some change to the yards is also under consideration.

Agent E. Masson and operators are comfortably located in a temporary depot made out of the freight house.
County Commissioners Erickson
and Crust of Brainerd, and John A.
Oberg of Deerwood, accompanied by District Engineer Garrison of Brainerd, inspected the Cedar Lake road, state highway No. 6.

L. J. Alberts was elected superintendents of roads in Crow Wing county
with a salary to be $99 a month.
He has had experience in road building and in handling large crews of men.

At the creamery committee meeting held at the Bay Lake Fruit Growers association office A. N. Gray, Chas.
W. Potts and T. Haaland Tonneson were appointed to inspect creamery machinery and give estimates on the cost of a lot and suitable building.
State creamery experts will be present at the next meeting set for April 24.

Ladies of the Olive League will hold a reception Saturday evening,
April 17, in the Ladies Aid hall,
when a short program will be given and refreshments served. The public is cordially invited to attend.

M. S. Lamey has been re-elected marshal of Deerwood. He has been efficient in his duties. Ole Canning-ham was elected constable to fill the term made vacant by the resignation of Ed Watt. Gust Blom was re-elected street commissioner. H. E. Peterson was re-elected village attorney.

The Deerwood village council has donated $50 to the Deerwood concert band.

Scores made at the Deerwood Gun
and Rod club shoot were as follows:
Frank Freeman 20, R. R. Graham 17,
John A. Oberg 17, R. R. Graham 17,
W. C. McCoy 17, W. C. McCoy 16,
Harry Freeman 16, Alex Ruttger 16,
E. Ruttger 15, E. C. Holmes 14, P.
Freeman 14, W. C. McCoy 14, Fred
Olson 14, Carl E. Carlson 13, Gust
Oberg 11, Tom DeRoche 10, Julius
O. Hage 10, Gust Franson 10.

The Deerwood Times remarks sen-
tentially: "It is rumored that M.
J. Reilly was in Deerwood last Tuesday."

Alfred Johnson was elected president, F. J. Winquest secretary and Paul Bergfalk treasurer of the Hamlet
and Shiri Lake telephone company.

Fred Hamdorf and Miss Doris Charles were married at the German Lutheran church at Cedar Lake, Rev.
Engle officiating.

What War Moves Mean

By J. W. T. Mason,

(Written for the United Press)

New York, April 16.—Field Marshal French's report on the blunders committed by the British at Neuve Chapelle, clears up much that was obscure in that engagement and emphasizes anew the almost insuperable obstacles that prevent a major victory resulting from trench warfare.

Since the entrenchment fighting began in France and Belgium, it is certain that many incidents not unlike the mismanagement at Neuve Chapelle have occurred to all of the belligerents. Otherwise the annals of the past 6 months would show more victories won by the Germans or the allies. But until the British commander in chief made public his frank avowal of the blunders of his army, all details of failures have been suppressed. General Joffre has permitted it to be announced that incompetence on the part of the French commanders was responsible for the success of the German drive through Belgium and northern France. The Germans, too, have publicly criticized the Austrians in general terms. But the British report of the Neuve Chapelle is the first one to give particulars of an unpardonable character. The British democracy apparently is winning its fight against the Kitchener censorship. Four primary reasons are stated by Field Marshal French to be responsible for the meagerness of the gains at Neuve Chapelle. First the failure of the 23d brigade properly to cut its way through wire entanglements; second, the delay of the fourth corps in getting its reserves into action; third, the difficulty of reorganization of the various units after they had charged through the enemy's trenches; fourth, the improper control of the artillery which swept the field over which the British themselves were advancing.

It would be easy to set down these mistakes to British blundering and to remark on the similarity of the present report and those issued during the Boer war. But criticism of this nature would miss the prize lesson of Sir John French's analysis. Every mistake committed at Neuve Chapelle is a representative one. If it were not for these and certain other difficulties, modern generalship would not be impotent before the enemy's entrenchments.

There is no reference in Sir John French's report to a belief that such errors will not happen again. In fact several weeks have passed since the Neuve Chapelle battle and as yet no effort has been made to redeem the blunders committed last month. The British commander's views on this subject are very pointed. He says such losses as those at Neuve Chapelle must be expected in the future unless he has an efficient and powerful artillery force and almost unlimited supply of ammunition. There is no reason to believe at the present that any of the belligerents has an "almost unlimited supply of ammunition." Neither side can afford to pay the price of Neuve Chapelle victories without unlimited munitions, which cost the British 13,000 lives for a gain of 1600 yards along a front of about 10 miles. Sir John French's reports therefore indicate there is no present hope of breaking the deadlock along the western battle front.

M. J. Reilly Harks Back to the Recent Election With Some Interesting Reminiscences

Editor Brainerd Daily Dispatch:

I see by your editorial of April 7th that you regret that the proposed city charter did not receive due consideration. But let us see, maybe it did. Perhaps a good many voters had the same experience as myself. I talked with a few of what I call representative men of Brainerd. I asked them who they considered would be a good city manager. Some said they thought they would have to get a "West Pointer," others said we might look up the ads in a Trade Journal. I made up my mind very quickly that I did not want a new charter, if we did not have a man in a city of 10,000 people competent for the position. Brainerd has sent out men that are presidents of locomotive works, managers, superintendents, and master mechanics of railroads, and many others prominent in other lines. And I believe that we have plenty of competent men in Brainerd yet if we could only get together as interested people should and elect men for their fitness and not on account of wanting to get even with some one. I well remember the first election I was at in Brainerd. We elected James Gardner as mayor. We had a big parade and one of the emblems we carried was a broken ring, signifying that the "down-town ring" was broken. We did not know what we were doing, but we "hurrahed" for it just the same. Some are still keeping that same spirit alive. The great trouble with men who think with their hands is that they think they are the only ones that do anything. But when they are sick they go to a doctor or in other trouble to a lawyer, and it is time they should wake up to the fact that every kind of business depends upon the other and that sometimes the fellow that we think is having a snap has the hardest time going to sleep at night.

You also intimate that the city is going to be hard up for funds, and while I am at it I will criticize a few things. First, in regard the East Brainerd fill, I would do that as if I was doing it for myself. I would make the center of it about ten feet lower than the ends and drain the water to the middle into the sewer. Then the base would not need to be so wide and you would save any way one-fifth of the cost which would be about $4,000.00, an amount worth saving. Second, I would build a city hall to cost about $35,000.00. My reason is that every man that occupies that building admits that he is a servant of the people and in other walks of life they do not give their servants the best room in the house. I remember when I used to thresh in the fall many a time I had to sleep in the barn. This would mean a saving of $40,000.00. Third, if I were paving the streets, I would not have a six inch curbing at ever cross walk in the resident portion of the city. It is very hard for a lady with a baby carriage to get down town. One thing is certain: she cannot exceed the speed limit.

I asked several high school boys lately what the cause of the Revolutionary war was and they all answered the same "Taxation without representation." Now today we have the same grievance, as the tax payer is not considered much by our representatives. I belonged to a society once and one of the planks in the preamble was that all men are born equal with the right to life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness. Everyone agrees on that. Now if that is true, we should be equal in our intentions in our city's welfare. I would suggest that as there are 1811 voters in Brainerd that we assess ourselves $11.59 each and it will just make up what the city loses in licenses, $21,000.00.

Respectfully yours,

M. J. REILLY.

Detroit, April 15.

Successful "Municipal" Saloon in Operation

(By United Press)

Lemmon, S. D., April 16.—If business keeps up for the next two months as it has since last July Lemmon's municipal saloon will have contributed approximately $12,000 toward the schools and municipal improvements. The monthly profit of Lemmon's one saloon is $1,000 a month.

Before the last law limiting the number of saloons per capita throughout the state, Lemmon, with a population of 1,255, inhabitants, had eight saloons. Competition was keen and to make their respective saloons "attractive" some of them became the lowest manner of dives. When the per capita law was passed Lemmon was allowed two saloons. There was intense rivalry for the two licenses. A proposition that the city go into the saloon business was put to a vote and failed.

Then the Lemmon Civic Association was formed after the city last spring adopted the commission form of government. The association included men of many different walks of life and business. Ministers were among the membership. The association was given a saloon license. A manager, one of the strongest prohibition workers in the city, was appointed. He receives no salary. The two barkeepers receive good salaries that graft of any kind is eliminated. By the association's rules the sale of liquor is not pushed. A blacklist contains the names of persons who cannot buy liquor here. Patrons who once show a disposition to look even one time too frequently into one cup that cheers are blacklisted. Known drunkards may not enter the saloon; neither may persons whose families are known to be in want. Mayor B. R. Watt is one of the strongest boosters of Lemmon's municipal saloon.

"Since the saloon started last July," said Mayor Watt today, "it has given satisfactory results from every point of view. When we had eight saloons here you can readily imagine what element dominated our politics. We have eliminated nearly all of the factional fighting and are all now working for the best interests of our city. We have practically no drunkards in Lemmon. Certainly no man has become a drunkard in Lemmon since the municipal saloon started. I would sure recommend it as being far above private ownership."

French Government Rebuilding Homes

(By United Press)

Paris, April 3. (By mail to New York)—While the French government itself has undertaken the rebuilding of the thousands of homes destroyed in the present war, the women of France have just completed an organization to insure their refurnishing. The population in the invaded districts they assert will be as helpless to refurnish the homes as they would be to rebuild them.

The "Union Fraternelle des Femmes" is the organization which has just perfected the project. Madame Amelle Hammer, the president, has just explained to the United Press what is to be undertaken and how it is to be accomplished.

"Our work," she said, "is to be as much moral as it is social. We propose merely to help the unfortunate and not to give them charity. Every person whose home has been destroyed and who is unable to refurnish the new one which the government builds for them, will have help from us in just the degree they need. If absolutely imperative, we will furnish their homes without expectation of repayment. But the others will pay us back in installments in conformity with their possibilities."

"While it is inevitable that Paris will be the center and the brain of this work and this organization, we have already perfected the details for other centers to participate in it. In all of the provinces adjacent to the invaded districts we have arranged for at least once one city to be a depot for supplying the furnishings to the new houses. This will give a quicker response to the needs of the destroyed villages and isolated houses and will also result in a distribution of the work that will be involved in the manufacturing of the household equipment necessary."

France is already making a reasonable use of her war prisoners in keeping up the necessary manual labor of the nation.

For the time being at least, the sending of the prisoners to Algeria and Morocco, where thousands have been employed almost from the first days of the war, has been temporarily abandoned. They are now being utilized closer to home.

In Corsica about 3,000 are now being worked in the mines. In the agricultural districts of France about 450 are being worked at Hay-de-Dome; about 1,050 in Brittany while another lot is used in railway construction along the north coast, while large contingents are being utilized in other public works in the Champagne, Creuse, Ardeche and Herault.

I belonged to a society once and one of the planks in the preamble was that all men are born equal with the right to life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness. Everyone agrees on that. Now if that is true, we should be equal in our intentions in our city's welfare. I would suggest that as there are 1811 voters in Brainerd that we assess ourselves $11.59 each and it will just make up what the city loses in licenses, $21,000.00.

Respectfully yours,
M. J. REILLY.

Successful "Municipal" Saloon in Operation

(By United Press)

Lemmon, S. D., April 16.—If business keeps up for the next two months as it has since last July Lemmon's municipal saloon will have contributed approximately $12,000 toward the schools and municipal improvements. The monthly profit of Lemmon's one saloon is $1,000 a month.

Before the last law limiting the number of saloons per capita throughout the state, Lemmon, with a population of 1,255 inhabitants, had eight saloons. Competition was keen and to make their respective saloons "attractive" some of them became the lowest manner of dives. When the per capita law was passed Lemmon was allowed two saloons. There was intense rivalry for the two licenses. A proposition that the city go into the saloon business was put to a vote and failed.

Then the Lemmon Civic Association was formed after the city last spring adopted the commission form of government. The association included men of many different walks of life and business. Ministers were among the membership. The association was given a saloon license. A manager, one of the strongest prohibition workers in the city, was appointed. He receives no salary. The two barkeepers receive such good salaries that graft of any kind is eliminated. By the association's rules the sale of liquor is not pushed. A blacklist contains the names of persons who cannot buy liquor here. Patrons who once show a disposition to look even one time too frequently into one cup that cheers are blacklisted. Known drunkards may not enter the saloon; neither may persons whose families are known to be in want. Mayor B. R. Watt is one of the strongest boosters of Lemmon's municipal saloon.

"Since the saloon started last July," said Mayor Watt today, "it has given satisfactory results from every point of view. When we had eight saloons here you can readily imagine what element dominated our politics. We have eliminated nearly all of the factional fighting and are all now working for the best interests of our city. We have practically no drunkards in Lemmon. Certainly no man has become a drunkard in Lemmon since the municipal saloon started. I would sure recommend it as being far above private ownership."

French Government Rebuilding Homes

(By United Press)

Paris, April 3. (By mail to New York)—While the French government itself has undertaken the rebuilding of the thousands of homes destroyed in the present war, the women of France have just completed an organization to insure their refurnishing. The population in the invaded districts they assert will be as helpless to refurnish the homes as they would be to rebuild them.

The "Union Fraternelle des Femmes" is the organization which has just perfected the project. Madame Amelle Hammer, the president, has just explained to the United Press what is to be undertaken and how it will be accomplished.

"Our work," she said, "is to be as much moral as it is social. We propose merely to help the unfortunate and not to give them charity. Every person whose home has been destroyed and who is unable to refurnish the new one which the government builds for them, will have help from us in just the degree they need. If absolutely imperative, we will furnish their homes without expectation of repayment. But the others will pay us back in installments in conformity with their possibilities."

"While it is inevitable that Paris will be the center and the brain of this work and this organization, we have already perfected the details for other centers to participate in it. In all of the provinces adjacent to the invaded districts we have arranged for at least once one city to be a depot for supplying the furnishings to the new houses. This will give a quicker response to the needs of the destroyed villages and isolated houses and will also result in a distribution of the work that will be involved in the manufacturing of the household equipment necessary."

France is already making a reasonable use of her war prisoners in keeping up the necessary manual labor of the nation.

For the time being at least, the sending of the prisoners to Algeria and Morocco, where thousands have been employed almost from the first days of the war, has been temporarily abandoned. They are now being utilized closer to home.

In Corsica about 3,000 are now being worked in the mines. In the agricultural districts of France about 450 are being worked at Huy-de-Dome; about 1,950 in Brittany while another lot is used in railway construction along the north coast.

while large contingents are being utilized in other public works in the Champagne, Creuse, Ardeche and Herault.

GIRL SAID SHE WAS KIDNAPED

Grace Fuda, Recovered by Her Father in Brainerd, Tells a Weird Story of Disappearance

2 MEN FORCED HER TO WALK

Says They Paid Her Railroad Fare—Worked as a Waitress—Was Missing Eight Days

The Duluth News Tribune says that Grace Fuda, at her home in New Duluth, last night told a story of being forced to walk eight miles by two men armed with revolvers, who followed in the distance, of walking to the union depot from New Duluth, of taking the train for Brainerd and paying for her fare with money given her by the men.

Grace, aged 16, is the pretty Italian girl who mysteriously disappeared last Wednesday and was gone for eight days. She was found yesterday in Brainerd, where she has been doing housework and working as a waitress since she left home.

Her father learned that she had been seen in Brainerd and hurried there Wednesday night. He returned with her at 6:40 o'clock last night and they hurried to their home at 830 Commonwealth avenue, where Lieut. Robert McDermott of the New Duluth police station interviewed them.

According to the story the girl told Lieutenant McDermott, after she left the Gary school library she went to the home of a man living near the steel plant to collect a bill. She did not collect it and so had no money with her.

Coming back, she passed two men who were apparently repairing an automobile. Both were well dressed. They invited her to get into the car and take a ride, but she refused.

Then both whipped out revolvers and ordered her to walk down the road she declares.

"If you speak to anybody, we'll shoot you" they warned me so I walked several hundred feet ahead of the men for miles. At intervals they stopped to repair the car to give me time to get farther ahead, but not once was I so distant that I could have dodged out of range.

"I thought they would order me to get in after awhile, but no—they to get in after awhile, but no—they walk."

Two days before the two men had entered her father's general store and purchased cigars. She had waited on them. They were dressed then like the laborers on the sewer work, she said.

She said they gave her $2.25 for fare to Brainerd. She asked a man the direction to the union depot when she reached Twenty-ninth avenue West. One man on a wagon had offered her a ride to the city, but, fearful of her life, she said, she declined and walked on. Later she accosted the same man at Twenty-ninth avenue West and Third street and asked him the direction to the union depot. The men in the car were not far behind.

Her trail slippers were torn to fragments when she reached the depot and bought her ticket. She had expected the men to meet her in Brainerd, but they were not to be seen. She stayed at a hotel Wednesday night and early the next morning asked the hotel for work.

They referred her to the Ransford hotel. The convention of the Minnesota Sunday schools was being held and for two days she worked as a waitress. Then she was out of employment.

She went to the Brainerd railroad station but her funds would not buy her a ticket back to Duluth. She sat on a bench, hopeless, despairing, out of a job.

Then Dick Herbert, owner of a restaurant, entered and the station master pointed her out. Grace was given work at the lunch counter. Here she worked three days. Then Herbert found her a place to work at housework. She was taken to the home of his sister in the country near Brainerd, where her father found her.

"Didn't you see any policemen when you were walking?" asked McDermott.

"Oh yes," said the girl, "but I was afraid to speak to them."

PAMPHLETS ON CITY

And County Soon to be Issued by Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, Advertising Both

A comprehensive pamphlet on the city of Brainerd and county of Crow Wing, says Secretary C. E. Hansing of the Chamber of Commerce, will soon be issued by the organization and be ready for distribution in a few days.

A feature of the pamphlet will be the space devoted to city and county statistics which have been gathered through the aid and co-operation of city and county officers. A great many views of the city showing the many large business blocks, hospitals, Y. M. C. A. and Federal buildings, Gregory park, Washington high school, main business streets together with numerous farm scenes showing fields of corn, garden plots, herds of dairy cattle, etc., make the pamphlet both interesting and attractive.

Feed State's Birds

Russian mulberry trees, the fruit of which is more sought after by birds than cherries and other choice fruits, will be distributed by the Minnesota Game and Fish Protective league as part of a plan to protect birds in the state and to divert their attention from fruit with commercial value. At the monthly meeting of the league yesterday at Hotel Dyckman, Minneapolis, it was decided to distribute 5,000 trees before Arbor day, April 23. Affiliation of other societies for the protection of birds and game will be encouraged by the league, and a committee was appointed to draft by-laws to encourage affiliation.

Great Country, This

The frozen body of an alligator, a victim of misplaced confidence in a northern Minnesota winter, has been taken from the Mississippi river a mile or so out from Aitkin, or 150 miles or more from the falls of St. Anthony.

The gator measures five feet in length and weighs 40 pounds. It was in splendid flesh when frozen in the ice and is even yet well preserved.

How the creature got into this territory or where it came from is a mystery which Aitkin people cannot solve.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

Held by St. Paul's Episcopal Church at the Guild Hall, W. D. McKay Senior Warden

The annual parish meeting of St. Paul's Episcopal church was held in the guild hall Monday evening, W. D. McKay was elected senior warden, J. K. Pearce junior warden, W. H. Gemmell, F. A. Farrar, J. R. Smith, W. H. Crowe, J. H. Davison, R. R. Gould, T. T. Blackburn and James Templeton vestrymen for the ensuing year.

The reports were read of the treasurer, ladies guild, St. Mary's guild, altar guild and young peoples guild, showing them to be in a flourishing condition.

After the business was transacted an informal reception was held as a sort of farewell for Rev. Caleb Benham, who will soon leave the city. The ladies of the church served refreshments and a most delightful social hour was enjoyed by those present.

ST. MATTHIAS SIFTINGS

It is generally understood now why F. Velleit was so much interested in the county commissioners meetings the past few months. We wish him all kinds of success in his work. He has a chance now, in a measure, to show up experience in road building, and we shall expect to have either a lower expenditure on any given section of road, or any job he has a say in, or more results for money spent.

Small grain is mostly in now, though very little growth is apparent yet. Nothing rushing anywhere. Mrs. P. Bedow and children of Crow Wing, were visitors at H. Langevin's Sunday and Monday.

The general health is improved, though some are still complaining with colds, etc.

We have nothing to report about the Farmers' club. Not enough members out to hold a meeting. Why?

H. Langevin got his turn in getting his logs sawed by Derosier out by the creamery, today (Wednesday.) Louis Derosier hasn't got started at his bunch yet.

BANE BLOCK FINISHED

E. C. Bane Block Occupied by Auto Sales Co., Model Show Rooms, Quarters for 50 Cars

The E. C. Bane block on South Seventh street has been rebuilt, the contractors being Hannah & Glonett, of Deerwood. They did a fine, workmanlike job, highly pleasing to the owner.

The lower floor was finished, the second floor remaining unfinished. The large room and office rooms are finished in oak stain. The quarters provide a model room for display purposes and there is ample room for 50 cars. With a front and rear entrance and vacant land to the rear of the building, it offers ideal means to enter or leave the garage with a car.

Mr. Bane is to be commended for his enterprise in replacing the building destroyed by the recent fire and thus again building up solid this section of South Seventh street.

"Oh yes," said the girl, "but I was afraid to speak to them."

PAMPHLETS ON CITY

And County Soon to be Issued by Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, Advertising Both

A comprehensive pamphlet on the city of Brainerd and county of Crow Wing, says Secretary C. E. Hansing of the Chamber of Commerce, will soon be issued by the organization and be ready for distribution in a few days.

A feature of the pamphlet will be the space devoted to city and county statistics which have been gathered through the aid and co-operation of city and county officers. A great many views of the city showing the many large business blocks, hospitals, Y. M. C. A. and Federal buildings, Gregory park, Washington high school, main business streets together with numerous farm scenes showing fields of corn, garden plots, herds of dairy cattle, etc., make the pamphlet both interesting and attractive.

Feed State's Birds

Russian mulberry trees, the fruit of which is more sought after by birds than cherries and other choice fruits, will be distributed by the Minnesota Game and Fish Protective league as part of a plan to protect birds in the state and to divert their attention from fruit with commercial value. At the monthly meeting of the league yesterday at Hotel Dyckman, Minneapolis, it was decided to distribute 5,000 trees before Arbor day, April 23. Affiliation of other societies for the protection of birds and game will be encouraged by the league, and a committee was appointed to draft by-laws to encourage affiliation.

Great Country, This

The frozen body of an alligator, a victim of misplaced confidence in a northern Minnesota winter, has been taken from the Mississippi river a mile or so out from Atkin, or 150 miles or more from the falls of St. Anthony.

The "gator" measures five feet in length and weighs 40 pounds. It was in splendid flesh when frozen in the ice and is even yet well preserved.

How the creature got into this territory or where it came from is a mystery which Albin people cannot solve.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

Held by St. Paul's Episcopal Church at the Guild Hall, W. D. McKay Senior Warden

The annual parish meeting of St. Paul's Episcopal church was held in the guild hall Monday evening. W. D. McKay was elected senior warden, J. K. Pearce junior warden, W. H. Gemmell, F. A. Farrar, J. R. Smith, W. H. Crowell, J. H. Davison, R. R. Gould, T. T. Blackburn and James Templeton vestrymen for the ensuing year.

The reports were read of the treasurer, ladies guild, St. Mary's guild, altar guild and young peoples guild, showing them to be in a flourishing condition.

After the business was transacted an informal reception was held as a sort of farewell for Rev. Caleb Benham, who will soon leave the city. The ladies of the church served refreshments and a most delightful social hour was enjoyed by those present.

ST. MATHIAS SIFTINGS

It is generally understood now why P. Velette was so much interested in the county commissioners meetings the past few months. We wish him all kinds of success in his work. He has a chance now, in a measure, to show up experience in road building, and we shall expect to have either a lower expenditure on any given section of road, or any job he has a say in, or more results for money spent.

Small grain is mostly in now, though very little growth is apparent yet. Nothing rushing anywhere. Mrs. P. Bedow and children of Crow Wing, were visitors at H. Langlevin's Sunday and Monday.

The general health is improved, though some are still complaining with colds, etc.

We have nothing to report about the Farmers' club. Not enough members out to hold a meeting. Why?

H. Langlevin got his turn in getting his logs sawed by Deroshier out by the creamery, today (Wednesday.) Louis Deroshier hasn't got started at his bunch yet.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Weber went to Brainerd Wednesday.

BANE BLOCK FINISHED

E. C. Bane Block Occupied by Auto Sales Co., Model Show Rooms, Quarters for 50 Cars

The E. C. Bane block on South Seventh street has been rebuilt, the contractors being Hannah & Glonett, of Deerwood. They did a fine, workmanlike job, highly pleasing to the owner.

The lower floor was finished, the second floor remaining unfinished. The large room and office rooms are finished in oak stain. The quarters provide a model room for display purposes and there is ample room for 50 cars. With a front and rear entrance and vacant land to the rear of the building, it offers ideal means to enter or leave the garage with a car.

Mr. Bane is to be commended for his enterprise in replacing the building destroyed by the recent fire and thus again building up solid this section of South Seventh street.

$100 REWARD. $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

FIRST INSTALLMENT

"SANFORD QUEST, CRIMINOLOGIST."

The young man from the West had arrived in New York only that afternoon, and his cousin, town born and bred, had already embarked upon the task of showing him the great city. They occupied a table in a somewhat insignificant corner of one of New York's most famous roof garden restaurants. The place was crowded with diners. There were many notable faces to be pointed out. The town young man was very busy.

"Tell me," the country cousin inquired, "who is the man at a table by himself? The waiters speak to him as though he were a little god. Is he a millionaire, or a judge, or what?"

"You're in luck, Alfred," the New Yorker declared. "That's the most interesting man in New York—one of the most interesting in the world. That's Sanford Quest."

"Who's he?"

"Sanford Quest is the greatest master in criminology the world has ever known. He is a magician, a scientist, the Pierpont Morgan of his profession."

"Say, do you mean that he is a detective?"

"Yes," he said simply, "you can call him that—just in the same way that you could call Napoleon a soldier or Lincoln a statesman. He is a detective, if you like to call him that, the master detective in the world."

When Sanford Quest entered his house an hour later he glanced into two of the rooms on the ground floor, in which telegraph and telephone operators sat at their instruments. Then, by means of a small lift, he ascended to the top story and entered a large apartment wrapped in gloom until, as he crossed the threshold, he touched the switches of the electric lights. One realized then that this was a man of taste. Quest drew up an easy chair to the wide-fung window, touching a bell as he crossed the room. In a few moments the door was opened and closed noiselessly. A young woman entered with a bundle of papers.

The criminologist glanced through the papers quickly. "No further inquiries, Laura?"

She left the room almost noiselessly.

"THE TENEMENT HOUSE MYSTERY"

CHAPTER I.

"This habit of becoming late for breakfast," Lady Ashleigh remarked, as she sat down the coffee pot, "is growing upon your father. Any news, dear?"

Ella glanced up from a pile of correspondence through which she had been looking a little negligently.

"None at all, mother. My correspondence is just the usual sort of rubbish—invitations and gossip. Such a lot of invitations, by the bye."

"At your age," Lady Ashleigh declared, "that is the sort of correspondence which you should find interesting."

"You know I am not like that, mother," she protested. "My music is really the only part of life which absolutely appeals to me. Oh, why doesn't Delaney make up his mind and let father know, as he promised! . . . Here comes daddy, mum."

Lord Ashleigh loitered for a moment to raise the covers from the dishes upon a side table. Afterwards he seated himself at the table.

"I heard this morning," he said, "from your friend Delaney, Ella. He went into the matter very fully. The substance of it is that for the first year of your musical training he advises New York.

"I have not finished yet. This cablegram," he went on, drawing a little slip of blue paper from his pocket, "was brought to me this morning—"

He smoothed it out before him and read:

To Lord Ashleigh, Hamelin House, Dorset, England: I find a magnificent program arranged for at Metropolitan Opera house this year. Have taken box for your daughter, engaged the best professor in the world, and secured an apartment at the Leland, our most select and comfortable residential hotel. Understand your brother is still in South America, returning early spring, but will do our best to make your daughter's year of study as pleasant as possible. Advise her sail on Saturday by Mauretania.

"On Saturday?" Ella almost screamed.

"I shall now," Lord Ashleigh said, "leave you to talk over and discuss this matter for the rest of the day. At dinner time tonight you can tell me your decision, or rather we will discuss it together."

CHAPTER II.

"I am to take it, I believe," Lord Ashleigh began after dinner that evening, "that you have finally decided, Ella, to embrace our friend Delaney's suggestion and to leave us Saturday?"

"If you please," Ella murmured, with glowing eyes.

"Our Diamonds!" She exclaimed. "The Ashleigh Diamonds!"

"You will take your own maid with you, of course," Lord Ashleigh continued. "Lenora is a good girl and I am sure she will look after you quite well, but I have decided to supplement Lenora's surveillance over your comfort by sending with you, also, a sort of courier and general attendant—whom do you think? Well, Macdougall. He has lived in New York for some years, and you will doubtless find this a great advantage, Ella."

Ella glanced over her shoulder at the two servants who were standing discreetly in the background. Her eyes rested upon the pale, expressionless face of the man who during the last few years had enjoyed her father's confidence.

For a moment a queer sense of apprehension troubled her. Was it true, she wondered, that she did not like the man? She banished the thought almost as soon as it was conceived.

"You are spoiling me, daddy," Ella sighed.

"If you think so now," he remarked, "I do not know what you will say to me presently."

He laid upon the table a very familiar morocco case, stamped with a coronet.

"Our diamonds!" Ella exclaimed. "The Ashleigh diamonds!"

The necklace lay exposed to view, the wonderful stones flashing in the subdued light.

"In New York," Lord Ashleigh continued, "it is the custom to wear jewelry in public more, even, than in this country. Allow me!"

He leaned forward. With long, capable fingers he fastened the necklace around his daughter's neck.

"It is our farewell present to you," Lord Ashleigh declared.

Ella, impelled by some curious impulse which she could not quite understand, glanced quickly around to where the manservant was standing. For once she saw something besides the perfect automaton. His eyes, instead of being fixed at the back of his master's chair, were simply riveted upon the stones. A queer little feeling of uneasiness disturbed Ella for the moment. It passed, however, as in glancing away her attention was once more attracted by the sparkle of the jewels upon her bosom.

CHAPTER III.

The streets of New York were covered with a thin, powdery snow as the very luxurious car of Mrs. Delaney drew up outside the front of the Leland hotel, a little after midnight. Ella leaned over and kissed her hostess.

"Thank you, dear, ever so much, for your delightful dinner," she exclaimed, "and for bringing me home. As for the music, well, I can't talk about it. I am just going upstairs into my room to sit and think."

The car rolled off. Ella, a large umbrella held over her head by the doorkeeper, stepped up the little strip of druggist which led into the softly warmed hall of the Leland. Behind her came her maid, Lenora, and Macdougall, who had been riding on the box with the chauffeur. He paused for a moment to wipe the snow from his clothes as Ella crossed the hall to the left. Lenora turned toward him. He whispered something in her ear. For a moment she shook. Then she turned away and followed her mistress upstairs.

Arrived in her apartment, Ella threw herself with a little sigh of content into a big easy-chair before the fire and gave herself up for a few moments to reverie.

A log stirred upon the fire. She leaned forward lazily to replace it and then stopped short. Exactly opposite to her was a door which opened on to a back hall. It was used only by the servants. Just as she was in the act of leaning forward Ella became conscious of a curious hallucination.

"Lenora, come here at once."

The maid hurried in from the next room. Ella pointed to the door.

"Lenora, look outside. See if any one is on that landing. I fancied that the door opened."

Lenora crossed the room and tried the handle. Then she turned towards her mistress in triumph.

"It is locked, my lady," she reported.

"Go down and ask Macdougall to come up. I am going to have this thing explained."

Something of her mistress' agitation seemed to have become communicated to Lenora.

She walked quickly to the back part of the hotel and ascended to the wing in which the servants' quarters were situated. Here she made her way along a corridor until she reached Macdougall's room. She knocked, and knocked again. There was no answer. She tried the door and found it was locked. Then she returned to the hall and descended once more to the floor upon which her mistress' apartments were situated. She opened the door of the suite without knocking and turned at once to the sitting room.

"I am sorry, my lady," she began.

ST. CLOUD BUSY WITH BASEBALL

Granite City Will Enter Central Minnesota League if a Dozen or 18 Games Played at Home

THE OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Expect to Have a Fast Team Made up Almost Exclusively of Home Players, Money Coming in

Baseball Officers

President—F. J. Thielman
Secretary—W. Leigh Cary.
Treasurer—A. W. Corwin.
Manager—Mike Gallagher.

Whether it be an independent club or a unit in the projected Central Minnesota Baseball association, a Sunday league planned to embrace half a dozen cities along the Great Northern from St. Cloud to Alexandria, St. Cloud will have a fast team that will be made up almost exclusively of home players. The results of a meeting to be held in Sauk Centre next week when Mike Gallagher will represent the local club, will determine whether St. Cloud will enter the league or go through the season as a free lance.

The prevailing sentiment expressed by fans favors entrance into the league. Melrose, Sauk Centre, Long Prairie, Alexandria and Osakis are prepared to produce scrappy teams. All are within a reasonably short distance of this city. The fans contend that interest in the game will be stimulated and the games will be better regulated under the league management than when the same teams meet as independent clubs.

Manager Gallagher will endeavor to secure concessions from other clubs that will result in giving St. Cloud a majority of her games to be played on the home field. If 10 or a dozen games can be secured at home and open date games be played in St. Cloud, the team would play a sufficient number of their tilts at home to satisfy the fans. The fans believe no unreasonable request will be made for they believe St. Cloud with its large population and ability to draw from other points is entitled to a few more games than the smaller cities and that a shift in the schedule to make such a plan possible would work to the advantage of the smaller city clubs. If such an arrangement can be perfected Mr. Gallagher is authorized to announce St. Cloud's intention to enter the league.

An attempt made to be made during the summer to cause all business houses to close a part of every Wednesday afternoon so that week day baseball can be staged in St. Cloud for the benefit of those who do not feel free to witness Sabbath games. These week day games could be arranged with teams outside of the league.

A committee composed of F. J. Thielman, Ray Bruning and E. B. Treischel reported the results of a couple of hours' work with a subscription list yesterday afternoon. The business men waited upon were liberal and enthusiastic in their response and $260 was signed up.

A. G. Whitney headed the list with a pledge of $100, $50 when the first game is played and the remainder later in the season. In addition he pledged the street car company for $50 worth of car tickets for the team members and promised to repair the baseball park at once.

According to the insistent demands of the fans, Mike Gallagher, than whom none are better qualified, accepted the playing manager's berth. Many of the business men spoke favorably as to Gallagher's election when confronted with the subscription list and the naming of the speedy infielder meets with the unanimous approval of the fans. In addition to knowing the game, knowing players and knowing baseball conditions in this section of the state, Mr. Gallagher enjoys public confidence that assures the patrons of the team of unquestionable management of the team and its funds and assures the fans of the best there is to be offered.

The following officers were elected unanimously:

President—F. J. Thielman.
Secretary—W. Leigh Cary.
Treasurer—A. W. Corwin.
Manager—Mike Gallagher.

The soliciting committee was authorized to give a baseball dance in the near future, all arrangements being left to the committee.

Reading About a Garment Will Never Convince You of Its Surpassing Style

THE average man or young man is able to form a fairly good opinion of the quality of an article from reading about it. But, when it comes to appreciating the style, he must see it—he must slip into it and look himself over.

Collegian Clothes

embody the highest type of fabric and tailoring known to modern manufacturing. The poise of every garment is perfect. The general lines are distinctive. However, if you are really keen for an excellent style—an individual style, visit us and review these new Spring models.

JOHN CARLSON & SON

Although the price of alcohol is 8c higher per gallon, due to the high price of corn, we still keep up our old low price of $3.20 per gallon, $3.05 per gallon in five gallon lots and $3.00 per gallon in ten gallon lots (no charge for containers.) FIRST INSTALLMENT

"SANFORD QUEST, CRIMINOLOGIST."

The young man from the West had arrived in New York only that afternoon, and his cousin, town born and bred, had already embarked upon the task of showing him the great city. They occupied a table in a somewhat insignificant corner of one of New York's most famous roof garden restaurants. The place was crowded with diners. There were many notabilities to be pointed out. The town young man was very busy.

"Tell me," the country cousin inquired, "who is the man at a table by himself? The waiter speaks to him as though he were a little god. Is he a millionaire, or a judge, or what?"

"You're in luck, Alfred," the New Yorker declared. "That's the most interesting man in New York—one of the most interesting in the world. That's Sanford Quest."

"Who's he?"

"Sanford Quest is the greatest master in criminology the world has ever known. He is a magician, a scientist, the Pierpont Morgan of his profession."

"Say, do you mean that he is a detective?"

"Yes," he said simply, "you can call him that—just in the same way that you could call Napoleon a soldier or Lincoln a statesman. He is a detective, if you like to call him that, the master detective in the world."

When Sanford Quest entered his house an hour later he glanced into two of the rooms on the ground floor, in which telegraph and telephone operators sat at their instruments. Then, by means of a small lift, he ascended to the top story and entered a large apartment wrapped in gloom until, as he crossed the threshold, he touched the switches of the electric lights. One realized then that this was a man of taste. Quest drew up an easy chair to the wide-flung window, touching a bell as he crossed the room. In a few moments the door was opened and closed noiselessly. A young woman entered with a bundle of papers.

She left the room almost noiselessly.

"THE TENEMENT HOUSE MYSTERY"

CHAPTER I.

"This habit of becoming late for breakfast," Lady Ashleigh remarked, as she sat down the coffee pot, "is growing upon your father. Any news, dear?"

Ella glanced up from a pile of correspondence through which she had been looking a little negligently.

"None at all, mother. My correspondence is just the usual sort of rubbish—invitations and gossip. Such a lot of invitations, by the bye."

"At your age," Lady Ashleigh declared, "that is the sort of correspondence which you should find interesting."

"You know I am not like that, mother," she protested. "My music is really the only part of life which absolutely appeals to me. Oh, why doesn't Delaney make up his mind and let father know, as he promised! . . . Here comes daddy, mum."

Lord Ashleigh loitered for a moment to raise the covers from the dishes upon a side table. Afterwards he seated himself at the table.

"I heard this morning," he said, "from your friend Delaney, Ella. He went into the matter very fully. The substance of it is that for the first year of your musical training he advises New York.

"I have not finished yet. This cablegram," he went on, drawing a little slip of blue paper from his pocket, "was brought to me this morning—"

He smoothed it out before him and read:

To Lord Ashleigh, Hamblin House, Dorset, England: I find a magnificent program arranged for at Metropolitan Opera house this year. Have taken box for your daughter, engaged the best professor in the world, and secured an apartment at the Leland, our most select and comfortable residential hotel. Understand your brother is still in South America, returning early spring, but will do our best to make your daughter's year of study as pleasant as possible. Advise her sail on Saturday by Mauretania.

"On Saturday?" Ella almost screamed.

"I shall now," Lord Ashleigh said, "leave you to talk over and discuss this matter for the rest of the day. At dinner time tonight you can tell me your decision, or rather we will discuss it together."

CHAPTER II.

"I am to take it, I believe," Lord Ashleigh began after dinner that evening, "that you have finally decided, Ella, to embrace our friend Delaney's suggestion and to leave us Saturday?"

"If you please," Ella murmured, with glowing eyes.

"Our Diamonds!" She exclaimed, "The Ashleigh Diamonds!"

"You will take your own maid with you, of course," Lord Ashleigh continued. "Lenora is a good girl and I am sure she will look after you quite well, but I have decided to supplement Lenora's surveillance over your comfort by sending with you, also, a sort of courier and general attendant—whom do you think? Well, Macdougall. He has lived in New York for some years, and you will doubtless find this a great advantage, Ella."

Ella glanced over her shoulder at the two servants who were standing discreetly in the background. Her eyes rested upon the pale, expressionless face of the man who during the last few years had enjoyed her father's confidence.

For a moment a queer sense of apprehension troubled her. Was it true, she wondered, that she did not like the man? She banished the thought almost as soon as it was conceived.

"You are spoiling me, daddy," Ella sighed.

"If you think so now," he remarked, "I do not know what you will say to me presently."

He laid upon the table a very fa-

millar morocco case, stamped with a coronet.

"Our diamonds!" Ella exclaimed. "The Ashleigh diamonds!"

The necklace lay exposed to view, the wonderful stones flashing in the subdued light.

"In New York," Lord Ashleigh continued, "it is the custom to wear jewelry in public more, even, than in this country. Allow me!"

He leaned forward. With long, capable fingers he fastened the necklace around his daughter's neck.

"It is our farewell present to you," Lord Ashleigh declared.

Ella, impelled by some curious impulse which she could not quite understand, glanced quickly around to where the manservant was standing. For once she saw something besides the perfect automaton. His eyes, instead of being fixed at the back of his master's chair, were simply riveted upon the stones. A queer little feeling of uneasiness disturbed Ella for the moment. It passed, however, as in glancing away her attention was once more attracted by the sparkle of the jewels upon her bosom.

CHAPTER III.

The streets of New York were covered with a thin, powdery snow as the very luxurious car of Mrs. Delaney drew up outside the front of the Leland hotel, a little after midnight. Ella leaned over and kissed her hostess.

"Thank you, dear, ever so much, for your delightful dinner," she exclaimed, "and for bringing me home. As for the music, well, I can't talk about it. I am just going upstairs into my room to sit and think."

The car rolled off. Ella, a large umbrella held over her head by the doorkeeper, stepped up the little strip of druggist which led into the softly warmed hall of the Leland. Behind her came her maid, Lenora, and Macdougall, who had been riding on the box with the chauffeur. He paused for a moment to wipe the snow from his clothes as Ella crossed the hall to the left. Lenora turned toward him. He whispered something in her ear. For a moment she shook. Then she turned away and followed her mistress upstairs.

Arrived in her apartment, Ella threw herself with a little sigh of content into a big easy-chair before the fire and gave herself up for a few moments to reverie.

A log stirred upon the fire. She leaned forward lazily to replace it and then stopped short. Exactly opposite to her was a door which opened on to a back hall. It was used only by the servants. Just as she was in the act of leaning forward Ella became conscious of a curious hallucination.

"Lenora, come here at once."

The maid hurried in from the next room. Ella pointed to the door.

"Lenora, look outside. See if any one is on that landing. I fancied that the door opened."

Lenora crossed the room and tried the handle. Then she turned towards her mistress in triumph.

"It is locked, my lady," she reported.

"Go down and ask Macdougall to come up. I am going to have this thing explained."

Something of her mistress' agitation seemed to have become communicated to Lenora.

She walked quickly to the back part of the hotel and ascended to the wing in which the servants' quarters were situated. Here she made her way along a corridor until she reached Macdougall's room. She knocked, and knocked again. There was no answer. She tried the door and found it was locked. Then she returned to the lift and descended once more to the floor upon which her mistress' apartments were situated. She opened the door of the suite without knocking and turned at once to the sitting room.

"I am sorry, my lady—" she began.

ST. CLOUD BUSY WITH BASEBALL

Granite City Will Enter Central Minnesota League if a Dozen or 18 Games Played at Home

THE OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Expect to Have a Fast Team Made up Almost Exclusively of Home Players, Money Coming in

Baseball Officers

President—F. J. Thielman
Secretary—W. Leigh Cary.
Treasurer—A. W. Corwin.
Manager—Mike Gallagher.

Whether it be an independent club or a unit in the projected Central Minnesota Baseball association, a Sunday league planned to embrace half a dozen cities along the Great Northern from St. Cloud to Alexandria, St. Cloud will have a fast team that will be made up almost exclusively of home players. The results of a meeting to be held in Sauk Centre next week when Mike Gallagher will represent the local club, will determine whether St. Cloud will enter the league or go through the season as a free lance.

The prevailing sentiment expressed by fans favors entrance into the league. Melrose, Sauk Centre, Long Prairie, Alexandria and Osakis are prepared to produce scrappy teams. All are within a reasonably short distance of this city. The fans contend that interest in the game will be stimulated and the games will be better regulated under the league management than when the same teams meet as independent clubs.

Manager Gallagher will endeavor to secure concessions from other clubs that will result in giving St. Cloud a majority of her games to be played on the home field. If 10 or a dozen games can be secured at home and open date games be played in St. Cloud, the team would play a sufficient number of their tilts at home to satisfy the fans. The fans believe no unreasonable request will be made for they believe St. Cloud with its large population and ability to draw from other points is entitled to a few more games than the smaller cities and that a shift in the schedule to make such a plan possible would work to the advantage of the smaller city clubs. If such an arrangement can be perfected Mr. Gallagher is authorized to announce St. Cloud's intention to enter the league.

An attempt made to be made during the summer to cause all business houses to close a part of every Wednesday afternoon so that week day baseball can be staged in St. Cloud for the benefit of those who do not feel free to witness Sabbath games. These week day games could be arranged with teams outside of the league.

A committee composed of F. J. Thielman, Ray Branning and E. B. Treichel reported the results of a couple of hours' work with a subscription list yesterday afternoon. The business men waited upon were liberal and enthusiastic in their response and $260 was signed up.

A. G. Whitney headed the list with a pledge of $100, $50 when the first game is played and the remainder later in the season. In addition he pledged the street car company for $50 worth of car tickets for the team members and promised to repair the baseball park at once.

According to the insistent demands of the fans, Mike Gallagher, than whom none are better qualified, accepted the playing manager's berth. Many of the business men spoke favorably as to Gallagher's election when confronted with the subscription list and the naming of the speedy infielder meets with the unanimous approval of the fans. In addition to knowing the game, knowing players and knowing baseball conditions in this section of the state, Mr. Gallagher enjoys public confidence that assures the patrons of the team of unquestionable management of the team and its funds and assures the fans of the best there is to be offered.

The following officers were elected unanimously:

President—F. J. Thielman.
Secretary—W. Leigh Cary.
Treasurer—A. W. Corwin.
Manager—Mike Gallagher.

The soliciting committee was authorized to give a baseball dance in the near future, all arrangements being left to the committee.

Reading About a Garment Will Never Convince You of Its Surpassing Style

THE average man or young man is able to form a fairly good opinion of the quality of an article from reading about it. But, when it comes to appreciating the style, he must see it—he must slip into it and look himself over.

Collegian Clothes

embody the highest type of fabric and tailoring known to modern manufacturing. The poise of every garment is perfect. The general lines are distinctive. However, if you are really keen for an excellent style—an individual style, visit us and review these new Spring models.

JOHN CARLSON & SON

Three dollars for a Gordon Hat means two dollars for a rainy day.

the Power behind the dough

You may use an old favorite recipe and the best of materials and make it carefully, the oven may be just right, yet you will have a failure if "The Power behind the Dough" is not the right one to leaven it properly and make it light, digestible, wholesome.

Good baking without good baking powder is out of the question. K.C. Baking Powder has wonderful leavening power, and the double action—in the bowl and in the oven—makes good results doubly certain.

Taste no chances of failure—use K.C. and have "good luck" every time. At all Grocers.

A Substitute for Meat

ANY expert chef will tell you that a macaroni base is the ideal substitute for meat. Creamettes is more tender than ordinary macaroni and cooks in less than one-third the time.

A package of Creamettes will give you nearly twice as much food value as a pound of beefsteak at less than one-half the cost.

Creamettes is made from the creamy parts of Durum wheat and has a rich new flavor of its own.

Try it with cheese, with ham, with bacon, with tomatoes, with chicken or with nuts.
